

ESTF - ESCOLA SUPERIOR DE TECNOLOGIAS DE FAFE

<http://www.iesfafa.pt/>

Escola Superior de Educação de Fafe

The Higher School of Education of Fafe or ESEF (Escola Superior de Educação de Fafe) embodies a Project of Higher Education specially devoted to the training of professionals from the different levels of the education system.

Grounded on an experience of more than 20 years, we pursue the goal of becoming, within a decade, a reference for Europe in what regards initial and post-graduate training of teachers, thanks to methodological innovation and applied research.

ESEF's website – an always open doorway to our school – intends to reflect in its colors and shapes the availability, youth and audacity that characterize our teaching staff and our students when we accept the challenges of studying and working, competing, in a Teaching space of European dimension.

We leave you with an invitation for you to take part in the construction of this space – through comments, suggestions, or simply by enjoying it – and if, it's your wish, share our task of building a higher education for the XXI century.

International Relations

The Office of International Relations of IESF, Gabinete das Relações Internacionais do IESF (GARIESF), serves both IESF schools of higher education: ESEF and ESTF, and its missions are:

- Management of the mobility programs of students and teachers / researchers;
- Preparation of international cooperation training programs;
- Management of conventions and international agreements.

To fulfill these missions, two entities were created:

- The International Relations Commission (Comissão das Relações Internacionais - CRI), led by the President of IESF and composed by the Directors of both Schools (ESEF and ESTF), by the GARIESF coordinator, by the coordinator of the International Bureau and by representatives of the Scientific and Pedagogical Councils;
- The International Relations Bureau composed by its coordinator and by teaching and non-teaching staff.

The International Relations Commission (CRI) has the function of building, debating and evaluating the international politics of IESF.

The CRI is the main motor of IESF for the development of an increasingly international culture, open to Europe and to the world.

The International Bureau is in charge of the implementation of the politics chosen by the CRI, including the management of the conventions and international agreements, the development of mobility and the programs of international cooperation.

In this context, the International Relations Bureau boosts and manages essential sectors, such as the quality of the foreign students and teachers/researchers hosting and the creation of shared projects with European universities and others.

FAFE, Portugal

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=G2R1-0Yik18>

